

Madeleine Sjöstedt

Director-General the Swedish Institute

Ms Madeleine Sjöstedt is currently the Director-General of the Swedish Institute, a public agency with the mission to enhance trust and interest in Sweden abroad.

She has a degree in Master of Laws with focus on human rights and was previously Secretary- General of the liberal foundation Silc and the organization Cultural Heritage Without Borders.

Between 2006-2014 Ms Sjöstedt served as Deputy Mayor of the city of Stockholm responsible for culture, sports and real estate. She has also worked as a senior consultant in strategic communication and public affairs.